

CIP Codes Reference Sheet

This is a quick reference guide for the Classification of Instructional Program (CIP) Codes, both Instructional and Non-Instructional. The codes are organized into sections for ease-of-reference. The THECB interactive CIP list for these codes and more, are here.

Definition and Background

The Classification of Instructional Programs (CIP), as we use them now, is a taxonomic coding scheme of both instructional programs and non-instructional services used at Texas higher education institutions.

Note: The CIP titles and program descriptions are intended to be generic categories into which program completions data can be placed, not exact duplicates of a specific major, field of study, or non-instructional service titles used by individual institutions. If an exact CIP code cannot be determined, assign the most accurate code available.

CIP data may be prorated to reflect usage by more than one discipline or department.

Instructional vs. Non-Instructional CIP Codes

A six-digit Instructional CIP code corresponds to a single instructional program and its first two digits correspond to a group of instructional programs. Instructional CIP Codes are used in identifying degrees, declared majors, semester credit hours, and courses on the Course Inventory. A listing of these codes can be found here.

In addition to the Instructional CIP Codes, the Coordinating Board has assigned unique six-digit Non-Instructional CIP codes to identify administrative and support functions at Texas higher education institutions. Non-Instructional codes include non-degree functions (i.e., management operations, intercollegiate athletics, and general service functions for students) and are listed here.

Finding the Correct CIP Code for Your Department / Program

To find the correct CIP code for a given space in your department or program, ask yourself: who uses the space and what is it used for? The use of the room will determine whether an Instructional or Non-Instructional code is used.

Refer to the chart on the next page for guidance in selecting the correct CIP Code.

CIP Code Selection Reference

A determination must first be made on whether the space is used for an Instructional or Non-Instructional purpose. Use the following chart to determine the CIP code for a given room/space.

CIP codes listed in this document are organized by type: Instructional vs. Non-Instructional and then by category: general instructional program (Instructional) vs. general functional area (Non-Instructional). Within each category, try to assign the most accurate code available.

Rooms with Multiple CIPs

Up to three CIP Codes may be assigned to a single room: primary, secondary, and remaining. When a room serves several purposes or uses, it may be reported based on time spent on each activity. Overall, the total percent of use/proration for primary, secondary, and remaining use must always total 100 percent (usually expressed in estimates, such as 60-40, 55-45, 30-70).

Note: Only a room's function (via Function Code) and program area (via CIP Code) may be prorated, unlike its space use (via Space Use Code).
